

Student Quick-Start Guide

MySciLife® is a social media platform designed to give you and your classmates an exciting way to learn science.

As a student using MySciLife, you'll create and use science-themed identity profiles to post, comment, and interact in a digital community—just like you do on your favorite social media sites.

To join MySciLife, ask your teacher for your community access code and write it down below:

My Community Access Code:

Once you have the community access code, joining your class is easy:

1. Navigate to www.myscilife.org.
2. Click the Students: Join Your Class button.
3. Fill out the registration form. Be sure to enter your community access code in the correct box.
4. Enter a parent or guardian's email so they can give permission.
5. Log in and create your first identity to get started!
